THE DWELLING

Charlton Down was created as a new village in 1997 and the three late Victorian hospital buildings were converted into apartments which became Redwood House, Greenwood House and Herrison House. Number 54 is a ground floor apartment with high ceilings and large windows overlooking the leafy communal gardens and cricket pitch beyond.

ACCOMMODATION

The apartment is fully renovated to a high standard with well-proportioned rooms and stylish decoration. An engineered oak floor extends from the entrance hall through to the sitting room. The sitting room enjoys a large bay window, catching the best of the South and Westerly sunshine, with a view over the communal gardens and village cricket pitch.

The kitchen has solid oak worktops and integrated appliances including: a Neff four ring gas hob and electric oven and fridge/freezer. There is space and plumbing for a washing machine.

Across the hallway are the two double bedrooms. There is a double walk-in shower to the master and a separate bathroom that is tiled throughout with a contemporary white suite.

A full height double storage cupboard in the hallway (with plumbing for a washing machine). The property further benefits from gas fired heating, double glazed sash windows and security entry system.

OUTSIDE

Large landscaped grounds which are well-kept with a variety of mature trees and benches to sit and enjoy the grounds as well as gravelled walk ways and the cricket pitch. Ample residents parking and discreet refuse storage area. There is private residential parking and bicycle storage.

SITUATION

Charlton Down is a cul-de-sac and does not have to contend with any through traffic. It also benefits from a shop, a splendid village hall, gym, cricket pitch and tennis courts to which residents can book the use of.

The County Town of Dorchester is approximately 4 miles away and provides a wide range of amenities and facilities including Dorchester South and Dorchester West train stations which provide services to London Waterloo and Bristol Temple Meads. There are a number of highly regarded schools and the renowned Dorset County Hospital.

There is outstanding footpaths and bridleways over the surrounding countryside and along the coastline.
