This apartment is essentially the ground floor half of a large house. The apartment is arranged with a central hallway running the full length, off which all the principal rooms are accessed.

The apartment takes in the best rooms of the original house with, to the front, the original sitting room that has a lovely stone fireplace complete with ammonites as its focal point. To the centre there is a large bedroom laid to a parquet floor with two built-in double wardrobes.

To the end is a large kitchen that stretches the width of the property with a utility room behind. The kitchen is equipped with a comprehensive range of floor and wall mounted units and cupboards with an integral appliances including a gas hob and an electric oven with space for a large dining table to the centre. Both the kitchen and the utility room are laid to a practical quality engineered wood floor while a door leads from the kitchen out onto the gardens behind.

Also, off the hallway a door leads through to the integral garage that is equipped with double doors, light and power with in addition both a cloakroom and a shower room. The property is in good decorative order throughout, has UPVC double glazing and gas fired central heating.

Outside

To the front of the property there is off-street parking for two cars on a hard stand beyond which double doors open into the integral garage. To the rear of the property is a south and west facing courtyard garden for the most part laid to stone paving and enclosed by timber fencing. At the bottom of the courtyard there is a large rendered outhouse that makes a good storage space.
