THE DWELLING

Harbour Lights is so named as the view to the rear of the property looks straight down to the sea at West Bay framed by East Cliff on the left and West Cliff on the right. It truly is a wonderful view. The property occupies a peaceful position away from passing traffic on a private road at the top of Bridport within short walking distance of the town centre itself. The property itself is believed to have been built in the 1970s and although it is in working order now requires refurbishment to bring it firmly into the 21st century.

ACCOMMODATION

The accommodation was originally envisaged to work with the sleeping accommodation on the east side and the living accommodation to the west however it can be used in any number of ways - it is flexible living at its best. The sitting room is a particularly spacious room stretching from front to the rear of the original property, with a formal dining area to one end and a sitting area to the other. To one end of the sitting room a door leads through to the kitchen, equipped with a comprehensive range of floor and wall mounted units for cupboards. A garden room runs 2/3 of the width of the property behind with a door to one side that leads through to a reception room that would make a good fourth bedroom or a study. The bedroom to the centre of the bungalow has in the past been used as a dining room. There are two further bedrooms served by a shower room and a WC with all three bedrooms having built-in wardrobes. The property has gas fired central heating and is double glazed.

OUTSIDE

The property is approached along a private road that leads through to a substantial area of hardstand that provides parking for a number of cars. To one end of the bungalow there is an attached garage equipped with an up and over door and a covered storage area to one side. A terrace runs the full width of the house and makes an unusually good entertaining area during the summer months from which to take in the best of the views. The gardens behind are terraced and are filled with an array of mature herbaceous, shrub and tree planting. To the far corner of the garden there is a useful timber garden shed, there is a lean-to greenhouse to one side of the terrace along with a useful block built workshop.

SITUATION

Just walking distance from the former rope making town of Bridport. Bridport has a thriving arts scene and a comprehensive range of shops public houses and restaurants supplemented by a twice weekly market. The World Heritage Jurassic Coast lies nearby at West Bay.
