Seven-Bedroom Period Residence with Two Acres in Horsehay, Telford

In the heart of the sought-after village of Horsehay, this distinguished detached period home offers a rare combination of impressive size, period character, and stunning outdoor space. Set within approximately two acres of mature gardens and private woodland, the property features seven bedrooms, four bathrooms, and five versatile reception rooms, making it ideal for family living or those seeking a home with presence and flexibility. The interior showcases high ceilings, generous proportions, and original charm, complemented by a breakfast kitchen with utility, three cellar rooms, and a superb principal suite with dressing room and luxury en-suite. Additional bedrooms are served by either private en-suites or a well-appointed family bathroom. A gated driveway leads to plentiful parking, extensive garaging, and a workshop, while the stunning gardens provide a tranquil backdrop for entertaining, children's play, or peaceful woodland walks. Blending village appeal with excellent access to historic Ironbridge and Telford's amenities and transport links, this impressive residence is offered with no upward chain.
