Washing Pool House is a distinguished Grade II listed Elizabethan former farmhouse, dating back to 1590. Set within approximately 0.75 of an acre, this substantial property retains many of its original features, including exposed stone walls, flagstone flooring, timber beams, two inglenook fireplaces (one with a bread oven), and sections of rare Elizabethan panelling, all contributing to its historical integrity. Constructed from attractive stone beneath a slate roof, the house has been thoughtfully refurbished to a high standard including the conversion of the barn. This wonderful home, accessed via a no through road from the main Martinstown road, boasts versatile and spacious accommodation including family bathroom, three double bedrooms with ensuite facilities to the principal room finished with Carrerra marble. The ground floor has three well-proportioned reception rooms, a garden room, and a shower room. The generous kitchen is fitted with a comprehensive range of wall and base units and offers plentiful space for informal dining.

'The Hayloft' and 'The Cowshed' feature in the converted and refurbished barn and offer self-contained living/holiday home accommodation. Both are stylish and in-keeping with the main house with exposed brickwork, timber framing, and wooden staircasing. Further outbuildings include a large laundry room, workshop and games room.

The attractive, landscaped rear garden enjoys a south-westerly aspect and open views. Mainly laid to lawn with a variety of mature shrubs and trees, the garden offers a peaceful and tranquil setting and features a log store and greenhouse. To the front of the property is a walled garden, laid to lawn with stone path leading to the entrance of this enchanting home. The highly popular Brewers Arms pub is just a stone throw from the property.
