EPC rating D.

Piddletrenthide is a quintessentially English village nestled in the picturesque Piddle Valley of Dorset, its unusual name deriving from its position on the River Piddle and its historical assessment of thirty hides in the Domesday Book. The village and neighbouring village, Piddlehinton, offers amenities including charming pubs providing dining and accommodation and a new farm shop. For more comprehensive services and entertainment, the nearby county town of Dorchester is located just eight miles to the south. The beautiful Dorset Downs surround the area, placing it within the Dorset Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB), offering excellent opportunities for walking and exploring the countryside, including the nearby village of Cerne Abbas with its famous giant chalk figure, and the literary connections to Thomas Hardy's birthplace.

Entrance is via a newly installed front door onto a spacious hallway with wood effect flooring, a useful storage cupboard and ground floor cloakroom. Stairs rise to the first floor. Access is gained to the generous reception room with front aspect window and double doors through to the dining area. The cosy and characterful room boasts a central wood burning stove surrounded by exposed brick chimney breast and wooden beam. Steps lead to the dining room with tiled flooring and generous French doors overlook and open onto the rear garden.

Access to the kitchen/breakfast room is gained via the hallway and an opening from the dining room. Renovated in 2023, the kitchen remains in-keeping with the style of the property with Belfast sink, shaker style units and wooden worksurface with upstands. The room boasts modern integrated appliances including electric oven, four-ring electric hob and a dishwasher. Space is provided for further appliances and a tiled floor completes the look.

The quality of finish and presentation continues to the first floor where the landing provides access to three bedrooms, a family bathroom, and an airing cupboard. The bathroom is fitted with a suite comprising a WC, a wash hand basin and a panel enclosed p-shaped bath with power shower over. The floor is tiled and there are part tiled walls.

Externally, there is a delightful low maintenance garden to the rear of the property that enjoys a south-westerly aspect. The garden is mainly laid to lawn with an area of paving abutting the property, ideal for alfresco dining. A concealed area houses the oil storage tank and boiler and a side gate offers direct external access to the parking area where there are two allocated spaces.
