Maelgwyn House, Ffordd Isaf, Harlech, LL46 2SW

Nestled in the idyllic location of Harlech, Maelgwyn House was built as a "Manse" in 1907. It boasts a rich history having been built as a residence for the Baptist minister of Tabernacl Chapel, his wife and seven children. Boasting a spacious layout - perfect for a large family, or boutique guest house, this property offers not only a glimpse into the past but also stunning views overlooking Harlech Castle, the picturesque Harlech Beach, and the breath-taking Llyn Peninsula.

As you step inside, you'll be greeted by an imposing house meticulously upgraded to the highest standards, ensuring a blend of historical charm and modern luxury. Every corner of this home exudes elegance and sophistication, making it a truly impeccable living space.

Whether you are captivated by the history of the house, the panoramic views it offers, or the stunning upgrades done throughout, Maelgwyn is a rare find that promises a lifestyle of comfort and grandeur.

Harlech boasts a magnificent cliff top castle and cultural centre, together with numerous artisan shops, cafes and restaurants. Harlech's pretty stone houses and shops along the high street offer a unique opportunity to live in an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty in Snowdonia National Park. Maelgwyn is close to the Royal St David's links golf course and the Cambrian Coastline railway provides excellent links to nearby towns including Porthmadog and Barmouth with regular services to the Midlands and beyond.
