Situation

Caxton Place is a private hamlet of mostly Grade II listed buildings, situated on the rural outskirts of the village of Hadlow on the A26 between Tonbridge and Maidstone and provides local shops, pubs and restaurants, primary school, library, medical centre and pharmacy. The town of Tonbridge is approximately five miles distant offering comprehensive shopping, educational and recreational facilities and mainline station to London with fast services to London Bridge and Charing Cross. The M20 and M25 Motorways are accessed via the A26 and A21. The area is well served with primary and secondary schools in the state and private sectors. The village is situated within a conservation area, surrounded by countryside and with many buildings of interest including the historic St Mary's church and the Hadlow Tower.
