DESCRIPTION

Pinnacle Farm, built in the early 1800's is aesthetically pleasing and constructed of brick in Flemish Bond, a hallmark of traditional architecture, under a tiled roof. The house is approached through electrically operated gates over a gravelled drive to a car parking and turning area. The present owners have been in occupation since 2008 and have substantially improved and invested in the house over the last ten years. Great care has been taken to create a relaxed family home offering the ability to entertain. The kitchen/breakfast room is very much the heart of the house and opens to a superb vaulted dining room and garden/family room.

The house itself is handsome, has inherent character and is fully deserving of its Grade II listed status. As one would expect of a house of this nature, there is a large amount of accommodation and a number of period features. It offers a substantial degree of flexibility and scope for different and changing lifestyles. The house extends to about 4,250 square feet (gross internal) plus the cellar.

Externally, there is a separate vehicular access to the stable block and garage/workshop. The gardens and grounds are ideal for family life with large expanses of flat lawn, a natural pond and pasture land. With a stable block and land the house ideally lends itself to those with equestrian interests.
