BEING SOLD VIA MODERN METHOD OF AUCTION - Amesbury Manor is a striking Victorian residence that was originally built as a substantial family home and has since been sympathetically converted into eight well-proportioned apartments. Each apartment is ideally suited for professional tenants, currently let on a mixture of Assured Shorthold Tenancies and commercial agreements. Offered for sale by auction, Amesbury Manor presents an exceptional opportunity—whether as a strong investment holding with established rental income, or with potential to be restored to its former glory as a distinguished family residence.
