WILLIAMS HARLOW

Williams Harlow Cheam - A fine executive home located within the leafy commuter belt of Surrey and Greater London, boasting five bedrooms, three bath/shower rooms and a flowing interior full of natural light. The house is very handsome and effortlessly offers character in a modern build which isn't easy to do. The surrounding setting is surprising; semi-rural with bustling Sutton town centre a short drive away and smallholding fields a brief walk away; it is a wonderful mix of both. Offered without an onward chain, its a fab opportunity to put down generational roots and watch the family thrive. View now.

The Property

A most handsome house; the building has a wide frontage with garage to side. Once inside, the house flows between rooms and takes advantage of the modern build. The large hallway welcomes you in, whilst the home study is sizable and would make an ideal den or library and the cloakroom provides convenience for the younger family and guests. Further reception rooms work well together and include large lounge, conservatory, dining room, breakfast room. The kitchen is spacious and offers a sperate utility room. The first floor includes five bedrooms with three supporting bath/shower rooms. The property leaves space for updating but is perfectly liveable whilst you work out plans.

Outdoor Space

Approaching the house via the wide approach on to the driveway, one notices the ample space for parking and the double garage attached to the side of the house (it is relevant to note that it may be possible to extend above the garage if a larger first floor were required, subject of course to planning permission and covenants). The garden is very pretty and private.

The Area

Wellfield Gardens is as it sounds; an exclusive cul-de-sac with a picturesque access road that branches off to pockets of large detached houses. With horse paddocks to one side, the Greater London setting makes working in and around London less stressful and is a delight to return to. Trains from Carshalton Beeches offer services into London Victoria and London Bridge. Local amenities include golf courses, bridle paths, downland and of course, being Greater London, you are never far from a local high street or a larger shopping centre.

Why You View

Carshalton Beeches is a highly regarded area which is not well known outside the local vicinity. With good schooling, transport into London Victoria and London Bridge and leafy wide roads, the area attracts families and looks and feels affluent. This house is keenly priced to sell and ready to view via Williams Harlow.

Vendor Thoughts

"As my parents home, it was important the house performed without much ongoing maintenance but offered character, which is rare in newer homes. Sadly we now enter market without an onward chain and hope the next owner enjoys the property as much as our family had"
