SITUATION

Torcross is a pretty coastal village, nestling between the southern end of Slapton Sands and the fresh water lake of Slapton Ley National Nature Reserve. Situated on the South West Coastal Path in an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, with much of the surrounding coastline being owned by the National Trust. The village has a well-known pub and a bar/restaurant and is within walking distance of a farm shop with a butchery, deli, plant centre, brewery and cafe restaurant. The village is almost equi-distant between Kingsbridge and Dartmouth, each of which has their own extensive and delightful range of services and amenities including a primary and secondary schools.

DESCRIPTION

Little Aish is a charming traditional, part stone, cob and pebbledash rendered semi-detached cottage dating back to at least 1873 that has 3/4 double bedrooms and direct water views over Slapton Ley and out to sea at Torcross. The property is set on a generous plot with good-sized gardens, ample parking and a detached double garage.

ACCOMMODATION

The front door leads into a hallway, with stairs rising to the first floor and reception rooms either side. The dining room window to the front framing the delightful views. Sitting room with feature open-fire place, window to the front enjoying the views. Traditional country kitchen is fitted with a range of cherry wood wall and base units, Watson oil-fired range, electric hob, tiled floor, pantry, window with grassy field view. Utility room with access to the garden, additional storage along with space and plumbing for a washing machine. Cloakroom/WC. Bedroom 4/study/playroom, oil-fired boiler, access to the well serving potable water.

On the first floor the master bedroom and bedroom 2 are good sized doubles and overlook the fabulous water views. Bedroom 3 overlooks the garden and has a built in cupboard. Bathroom with original cast iron bath, vanity sink, WC and obscured window. Shower room.

OUTSIDE

The gardens are a really good size and run along side the property, with part walled, part fenced boundary, large lawn, planted borders, a range of mature trees and shrubs, large patio, summer house. Stone store.

Double garage, double gates lead into the gravelled parking area and provides access to the car-port/covered store to the side of the garage..
