Situation

Oare Water Cottage is situated in one of the most spectacular locations within the Exmoor National Park with wonderful steep sided valley scenery with rushing moorland streams. Oare is the the most westerly parish in Somerset situated in the beautiful valley of the Oare Water approximately 5 miles west of Lynton. The name Oare derives from Aere, meaning boundary, and it is mentioned in the Domesday Book as such.

Oare is superbly located to take advantage of the most wonderful countryside for waking and riding with also easy access to glorious sandy surfing beaches at Woolacombe, Croyde Bay, Putsborough and Saunton.

The scenery and local legends inspired Richard Dodderidge Blackmore to write Lorna Doone. His grandfather was rector at Oare from 1809 – 1842 and the author grew to love the local area from visits in his youth. Parts of the local Church, St Mary's, date back to the 14th Century

Oare is located about 3 miles east of the Exmoor village of Brendon with its popular local Inn. Nearby Malmsmead is just a few steps away with The Lorna Doone Farm Gift shop and Lorna Doone Inn. The twin towns of Lynton and Lynmouth linked by their famous Cliff Railway are about 6 miles offering a range of everyday shops and amenities. Porlock on the Somerset coast is a similar distance to the east. Minehead is about 14 miles away and Barnstaple the regional center for North Devon about 25 miles away.
