SITUATION

The property is set in a glorious elevated position with stunning moorland views in the village of Hawkridge in the hills of southern Exmoor National Park. Hawkridge is one of the oldest communities on the moor and benefits from a Norman church (St Giles) and a village hall. It is well placed for access to the nearby bustling moorland town of Dulverton. The popular tourist attraction of Tarr Steps is just a mile or so away with its famous bridge and Tarr Farm Inn public house and restaurant.

Nearby Dulverton offers a variety of shops, together with a post office, chemist, doctors, veterinary and dental surgeries, library and a primary school. The county town of Taunton and the city of Exeter offer a wider range of facilities.

Communications are good with the A361 providing access to the north coast and the M5 at Tiverton (J27). The nearest mainline railway station is Tiverton Parkway with fast trains to London Paddington and International airports are located at both Exeter and Bristol.

The surrounding countryside offers a range of rural activities with numerous opportunities for walking and excellent outriding directly from the property.

DESCRIPTION

The Old School House is a immaculately presented four bedroom south facing period detached residence, which has been extended and beautifully refurbished by the current owners. A great deal of thought has gone into the design to compliment the house, with the use of the finest materials including solid oak timber doors and flooring and an under-floor heating system. The elevated situation provides excellent moorland views and the property is complemented by a pretty garden, garage, stables, parking and a paddock.
