SITUATION & AMENITIES

The farm house is approached by a shared but private, no through track and enjoys an elevated site from which there are breath-taking views towards Hangman's Hill, the Bristol Channel and Welsh coastline in the distance. The property adjoins an original grouping of former period farm buildings, several of which have been converted into dwellings and several more are yet to be converted. Otherwise the house adjoins open countryside and the position is both timeless and tranquil yet, the village centre, local bus services and the South West coastal path are within walking distance. Berrynarbor offers a community post office and store, 13th century village Inn, Church and primary school with outstanding OFSTED rating. The popular North Devon coastal village and beach at Combe Martin is about 2 miles, Watermouth Bay is a similar distance and about 3 ½ miles away is the town of Ilfracombe. Wide open sandy surfing beaches in the Woolacombe area are about 15 minutes by car, Exmoor National park is also easily accessible. Barnstaple, the Regional centre, is 11 miles and houses the area's main business, commercial, leisure and shopping venues as well as District Hospital. At Barnstaple there is access to the North Devon Link road leading through to Junction 27 of the M5 and where Tiverton Parkway offers a fast service of trains to London Paddington in just under two hours.

DIRECTIONS

From the centre of Berrynarbor Village with the Church to your left climb Barton Lane and continue for about half a mile. Before reaching the main coastal road bear right up a track and the property is at the end of this.

DESCRIPTION

Understood to originally date from the mid 17th century and to have been the dairy farm for the nearby Watermouth Castle estate, this lovely coastal former farm house presents elevations of painted render and hanging slate beneath a slate roof. Many of the windows are double glazed and other 21st century refinements have been sympathetically and tastefully undertaken to blend well with original period features which include inglenook fireplaces, exposed beams, stone flagged or wooden floors, some stained glass windows etc. The characterful accommodation includes a suite of rooms on the first floor which can be self contained and therefore the property could suit dual occupation or home and income use. The house is complemented by delightful cottage gardens arranged as a series of external 'rooms' and to follow the sun/watch the sunsets over the channel. Two small adjoining paddocks boast the best sea views of all and are ideal for dog exercising, a pony or the good life. Another highlight is the former dairy which would make a perfect studio, office or potential bed/sitting room subject to planning permission. This has a double height vaulted ceiling where there may be potential to add a mezzanine floor, there are also double glazed windows and a stable door. This is certainly a property that needs to be viewed internally to be fully appreciated.
