Nestled in an elevated position with views overlooking the picturesque Grangewood Park, a contemporary semi-detached family house which blends modern design and functional living. Upon entering you are welcomed with two well-proportioned reception rooms, providing space for entertaining and relaxing. There is a third room which at the moment is utilised as bedroom four, but could if necessary be transformed into a further reception room. The heart of the home lies in its attractive fitted kitchen/breakfast room, combining style and practicality to create a hub for family gatherings. There are doors to garden from the third reception room? On the first floor there are three spacious bedrooms and as previously mentioned, the flexibility to utilise a fourth bedroom on the ground floor. Therefore this residence caters to the diverse needs of a growing family. The impressive designer style bathroom offers a luxurious retreat. Storage is integrated into the bedrooms through well designed cupboards providing ample space for organisation and tidiness. Adding to the convenience of this family home is a garage to the rear (not inspected), offering potential for secure parking or additional storage space. Transport is provided by Norwood Junction BR/Overground Station with its frequent trains to London making commuting a breeze. There are also local bus routes. The property is situated on the borders of Crystal Palace, which has an eclectic mix of shops and cafes with a vibrant and diverse atmosphere. This house represents a unique opportunity to experience modern living in a sought-after location, therefore early viewing is advised. We cannot trace building regulations for the property.
