Summary of Accommodation

ABOUT THE PROPERTY

Set away from the main road running through the centre of this village, Tresaith has been significantly extended in recent years to create a sizeable family home.

The central entrance hallway offers a carpeted staircase to the first floor landing with a neat understairs WC, and leads to all principal living spaces.

The lounge is a delightful, cosy reception space with log-burner set on a slate hearth and split-face tiled feature wall. A bow front-facing window overlooks the village lane leading to the church. The lounge seamlessly opens into the dining area which has a patio door opening onto the south-facing rear paved courtyard.

The open-plan kitchen / dining / living space has been opened up which is ideal for family life and entertaining; spanning the width of the property. An additional set of French doors open onto the paved courtyard. The kitchen has been fitted with a range of high gloss farmhouse cream wall and base units with complementary solid quartz work surfaces with upstands from Cardiff Marble. Offering a range of appliances to remain to include; electric hob, eye-level double oven / grill and dishwasher. There is ample space for a freestanding American-style fridge / freezer. From here there is a utility room with additional cupboards and houses the freestanding oil-fired Worcester boiler.

Directly opening from the kitchen area, double doors lead through into the sizeable family room / home office (which was an original integral garage).

To the first floor are five bedrooms - four of those bedrooms are of a generous double size. The principal bedroom has a range of fitted wardrobes to remain and overlooks the rear garden and further over farmland. Each bedroom shares use of the 3-piece family bathroom fitted with a contemporary suite, along with a fully tiled separate shower room.

GARDENS AND GROUNDS

Positioned to the heart of this highly-reputable and popular village, with off-road private block paviour parking for two vehicles side-by-side. Plus additional lay-by parking for visitors.

The rear garden has been landscaped to enjoy the sunniest point to the Indian sandstone paved courtyard area, directly accessed from the open-plan kitchen space. Beyond here, stone steps lead up to the mature lawned garden with additional patio area and planted mature borders. This predominantly private, sheltered space provides a tranquil garden to enjoy.
