The Property

Snaisgill House is nestled just outside the picturesque village of Middleton-in-Teesdale with panoramic views that sweep away from the house across glorious unspoiled countryside. The property is bursting with character features and is finished to a high standard in fitting country-style décor and natural colour tones throughout.

Access through the hall and past the downstairs cloakroom/WC, handy for muddy boots, leads into a beautiful warm country Chalon kitchen with stone flooring, AGA with electric companion unit and traditional-style island bench. Just off the kitchen is the utility room complete with bespoke units, Belfast sink and plumbing for a washing machine and dryer, and to the other side of the kitchen is a useful pantry.

Across the hallway from the utility room is the cosy snug with a traditional stone fireplace housing a multi fuel stove. The stunning reception hall with wood panelling and stone-flagged floor is grand yet intimate and has plenty of space for seating or dining. A side door leads outside. The beamed sitting room is home to another traditional stone fireplace and multi fuel stove, and has windows on three sides and French doors, to enjoy the fantastic views and creating a light, bright and relaxing space.

The carved wooden staircase and half landing lead up to the first floor, where the principal bedroom again takes advantage of the amazing views and is full of period features, along with a multi fuel stove. The en-suite shower room is smart and modern, but with a traditional style. Four further double bedrooms are beautifully presented, with one currently set up as a home office. These bedrooms are served by the well-appointed family bathroom from CP Hart, with suite comprising free-standing rolltop bath, separate walk-in shower, wash hand basin and WC. A loft hatch on the landing provides access to storage.

Externally

The outside space to the rear of the property takes full advantage of the glorious views over the fields and woodland down towards Middleton-in-Teesdale. Stretching away from the house is a large lawn sheltered by mature trees and bushes, and a five-bar gate at the bottom of the garden provides access to the paddock. The paddock extends to around 3.26 acres and slopes away very gently from the property.

A terrace wraps around two sides of the house and is a perfect space for dining, entertaining and enjoying the scenery. A low-maintenance planted gravelled area runs from the terrace to the stone-built outbuilding, which is accessed through a side door. Planning permission has previously been granted for conversion of this large outbuilding into a garage on the ground floor and a studio space on the first floor. Interested parties may wish to investigate the development potential further.

To the far side of the outbuilding is parking for several cars and vehicle access to the paddock.
