Farm Buildings:

The traditional buildings are located around an open yard next to the farmhouse with which they share access. The impressive barns are predominantly of stone and timber frame construction but are not listed.

The traditional buildings benefit from planning permission for conversion to residential dwellings forming plots 5, 6, 7 and 8 of the proposed development under planning permission P221395/F.

Access:

The existing access serving Treduchan Farm house and units 5 - 7 is to be retained as existing. The access currently serving units 5/6 will be closed off.

Proposed Accommodation:

The site of the former agricultural buildings has planning consent for residential development. Four dwellings would be created through the conversion of 'historic' buildings.

The proposed scheme would deliver the following accommodation:

Plot	Bedrooms	Size	Garaging / Cycle storage
5	4	409	2 Bay Garage + Cycle Store
6	3	231	1 Bay Garage + Cycle Store
7	4	206	Cycle Store
8	2	157	Cycle Store

Please note that the stated sizes are approximate external floor areas including garaging in M².

Plots 5-8 The Traditional Buildings:

- Each plot retains the character and format of the existing bays all within the envelope of the traditional buildings.
- Maximum opportunity has been taken to retain the fully vaulted roof elements, allowing existing roof trusses to be visible and providing the same sense of internal volume.
- Few structural changes are necessary as most doors and windows use existing openings.
- The present buildings will accommodate garaging, bike and bin stores thus avoiding the need for any future ad hoc buildings.

Farm Buildings:

The modern portal frame buildings are situated to the southeast with separate road access. These have mainly been used for keeping cattle and agricultural storage purposes.

The modern portal frame buildings are to be demolished and replaced with four new build residential dwellings forming plots 1, 2, 3, and 4 of the proposed development under planning permission P221395/F.

Proposed Accommodation:

The site of the former agricultural buildings has planning consent for residential development. Planning has been granted for four dwellings through the removal of the modern portal frame buildings to the southeast of the historic grouping and replacement with sympathetically designed new dwellings.

The proposed scheme would deliver the following accommodation:

Plot	Bedrooms	Size	Garaging / Cycle storage
1	4	232	2 Bay Garage
2	3	185	2 Bay Garage
3	3	185	1 Bay Garage
4	4	232	2 Bay Garage

Please note that the stated sizes are approximate external floor areas including garaging in M².

Plots 1-4 Replacement dwellings:

- Each plot is designed to sit sympathetically alongside the nearby traditional buildings replicating their style and layout.
- The new builds will be a mix of two storey dwellings with single storey garage and bike store.

- External walls will be of timber cladding and rubble stone but in contrast with the traditional buildings will be of modern and sympathetic style.
- The use of corrugated metal roofing will be subtly different to the slate and other roof covering on the traditional buildings but again provide a modern and sympathetic style.

Access:

The access serving units 1 - 4 is proximate to the existing access serving the modern agricultural buildings, but relocated further south to improve emergent visibility.
