Situated in the highly desirable St. Johns area of Royal Tunbridge Wells within walking distance of outstanding rated St. Johns primary school as well as close to the grammar schools is this spacious, three storey 'Halls Adjoining' Edwardian home built around 1902 and beautifully presented by the current owners combining a wide range of period features with contemporary fixtures and fittings. The accommodation is well balanced with plenty of living space on the ground floor complementing the four excellent sized bedrooms ideal for any growing family. Other features include a gas central heating system via radiators, double glazed windows, fitted with either plantation/café style shutters or blinds. The kitchen/breakfast room is a real feature of the property with its central peninsular breakfast bar incorporating the induction hob with built-in extractor fan, and attractive wall and base units hide a variety of integrated appliances. There is a useful utility area and downstairs cloakroom. The two reception rooms allow a choice of flexibility to be used as reception space or one to be used as a dining room if required. All four bedrooms are of an excellent size and have use of the family bathroom which includes both a bath and separate shower. The fully enclosed rear garden and raised terrace provides an ideal space for the family and outside entertaining. As we experience considerable demand for this particular style of home and in view of this property's wide range of features and wonderful presentation, we have no hesitation in recommending an early appointment to view.
