

A photograph of a single-story bungalow with a light beige or cream-colored render finish. The house features a long, low-pitched roof with a dark grey tiled surface. There are several white-framed windows along the front facade, some with small ledges. A white door is located on the right side. The property is approached by a wide, paved driveway that curves around the front of the house. To the left, there's a dark wooden fence and dense green foliage. To the right, a large, well-maintained hedge runs alongside the property. The sky above is blue with scattered white clouds.

GENERAL COMMENTS

27 Park View is a spacious detached bungalow that occupies a level corner plot within the sought after Park View. The location is fantastic and whilst very close to the centre of Truro which is within walking distance, it is extremely private with enclosed south facing gardens. The bungalow has been extended from its original design and provides spacious and versatile accommodation that is equally suitable for a family or retired couple. The bungalow has been very well cared for and modern additions include replacement double glazing, gas fired central heating and the kitchen and bathrooms are in good condition. The accommodation includes four bedrooms, the master has an en suite shower room, well proportioned sitting room, kitchen/dining room and bathroom. There is huge potential to convert the loft into additional accommodation if required as have several neighbouring properties within the road. At the front is a driveway that provides parking for at least four cars and a superb detached double garage/workshop with electric door. The large enclosed rear garden is extremely private and enjoys a sunny southerly aspect. It is safe for children and pets. There are many mature shrubs and plants, patio for sitting out and there is a large garden shed.

LOCATION

Park View is approached from Falmouth Road which is a continuation of Lemon Street leading directly out of the city centre. Many of the facilities and amenities of the city are within walking distance and a fine shopping centre boasts a wide range of national multiples and smaller shops, pubs, restaurants, banks, building societies and both primary and secondary schools. There is an excellent bus service and main line railway link to London (Paddington). Truro is also renowned for its cultural facilities which include the Hall for Cornwall, Royal Cornwall Museum and the Cathedral.

In greater detail the accommodation comprises (all measurements are approximate):

OUTSIDE

The bungalow is approached from Park View into a large tarmac driveway that provides parking for four or five cars. Enclosed behind dense hedged boundaries that provide privacy from neighbouring properties. Entrance porch and outside lights. Pedestrian gates open into the gardens on both sides of the property. Access to:

DETACHED DOUBLE GARAGE

Electric up and over garage door. Light and power. Two double glazed windows to rear. Pedestrian doorway to side garden.

GARDENS

The rear and side gardens are extremely private and enjoy a sunny aspect. They have been designed for ease of maintenance and are well stocked with many interesting mature shrubs and plants creating colour and interest. A large paved patio runs along the side and rear of the bungalow accessed from the kitchen and sitting room. This provides lots of sitting out space in which to enjoy the garden views and is perfect for alfresco dining and entertaining. Steps lead to a raised garden with gently sloping lawn where there are lots of shrubs and trees including camellia's, acer, copper beach, magnolia and two fabulous tree ferns. A path leads along the lower side of the bungalow via a wooden gate to the front driveway where there is an outside tap. The side patio has direct access into the garage and a further wooden gate opens onto the front drive. It is extremely secure. The garden shed is included in the sale.
