This property is located at the lower end of Daniell Street immediately adjacent to "The Thomas Daniell" public house. It is a double fronted house which has been upgraded in recent years and including a new kitchen and shower room but it has been unoccupied for some time and some further minor work and complete redecoration is required. There are 3 bedrooms and a large shower room on the first floor and 2 receptions and kitchen on the ground floor. There is gas-fired central heating and double glazed windows to the front elevation which all have modern shuttered blinds fitted. It is potentially an attractive family size home in a very convenient city location and should appeal to a wide range of prospective buyers.

Daniell Street lies within the designated Conservation Area of the city and all the dwellings on both sides of the street have been Grade II listed for their group value. The listing concludes that "Daniell Street has one of the best and most complete examples of early C19 planned terraces of small houses in the south-west".

Truro is renowned for its excellent shopping centre, fine selection of restaurants, bars, private and state schools and main line railway link to London (Paddington). The Hall for Cornwall is also a popular venue providing all year round entertainment and other cultural facilities include the Royal Cornwall Museum and the historic Cathedral.
