GENERAL COMMENTS

Trewarren Barn is located in a quiet rural setting at the end of a very long lane on the outskirts of Ladock. The property includes the main dwelling, two holiday cottages, extensive outbuildings and approximately five acres of land. Trewarren Barn is a detached traditional stone barn with attractive Cornish stone elevations, brick window arches underneath a natural slate roof with modern double glazed windows. Mature gardens surround the barn with extensive lawns, mature shrubs, plants, fruit trees and there are magnificent views over the surrounding countryside. The barn is full of character and includes a superb farmhouse kitchen/dining room, spacious sitting room with wood burning stove, study/utility room, entrance porch with cloakroom, three double bedrooms and large shower room. The master bedroom is particularly large with modern en-suite bathroom, fitted wardrobes and feature balcony with glass balustrade - the rural views from here are magnificent.

A short distance away is a handsome detached single storey stone barn that has been converted into two, one bedroom dwellings, currently rented out as holiday lets. They have been converted to a high standard and retain much charm and character. The accommodation of both barns include open plan kitchen, lounge and dining room with woodburning stove, double bedroom and modern shower rooms. The barns are very popular with holiday makers and provide a substantial income. They are rated excellent on Booking.com scoring 9.9/10. The barns are being sold as a going concern with the fixtures and fittings and furniture included in the sale.

There is an extensive range of outbuildings including a superb modern general purpose building and a second open fronted farm building that could easily be converted into stables if required. The land extends to approximately five acres and is ideal for hobby farming and equestrian enthusiasts. Photovoltaic panels have been installed on the larger outbuilding's south facing roof providing a healthy income from the government feed in tariff. All of the barns have individual exterior oil fired central heating boilers.

The location of Trewarren Barn is very special, being at the end of a long tarmac entrance lane which is a wonderful approach and in a rural setting. It is private but not isolated as there is one neighbour. The gardens and grounds extend to approximately five acres and includes a gently sloping paddock ideal for a horse or pony, hobby farming, etc. An internal viewing is essential.
