Heathfield is surrounded by beautiful, rolling Sussex countryside and has magnificent views to the south from the High Street. Heathfield is a small market town standing on a ridge and acquired its Market Charter in February 1316 during the reign of Edward II, the market town is 16 miles from the coastal town of Eastbourne and 17 miles from the historic spa town of Royal Tunbridge Wells in Kent. Steeped in history, older properties and constant reminders of the town's ancient years are dotted throughout and provide a characterful environment for the residents together with the famous Cuckoo Trail which was an old railway line running from Heathfield to Polegate offering countryside walks and cycling with the family, The Cuckoo Trail got its name from an old Sussex tradition of releasing a cuckoo at the Heathfield Fair.
