High Street, Aldeburgh

An elegant and spacious town house standing at the southern end of the High Street with a view along Hertford Place towards the sea. Aldeburgh is an extremely popular seaside town, renowned for its connections with the composer Benjamin Britten, its sailing on the Rivers Alde and Ore and its heathland golf course. The High Street features an eclectic range of independent shops and brand name boutiques, restaurants and galleries, along with an independent cinema. The town is close to open countryside and nature reserves which are connected through a vast network of public footpaths. Situated within the Suffolk Heritage Coast, an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, Aldeburgh is approximately two hours drive from London and the nearest train station is seven miles away at Saxmundham which, with a change at Ipswich, connects to London Liverpool Street.

DESCRIPTION

An elegant town house situated at the southern end of the High Street, a few paces from the sea front and the excellent shops and restaurants Aldeburgh has to offer. Set back from the road behind brick raised and planted beds and a small shingle garden, the accommodation is deceptively spacious with high ceilings. The large living room has sash windows over looking the high street and an imposing fireplace. Steps lead to open lobby and the second reception room/dining room with glazed casement door open to the shared courtyard to the rear. The kitchen is fitted with a range of oak finished kitchen units and a rear lobby leads to the cloakroom and second rear entrance door. On the first floor there are three well proportioned bedrooms and a family bathroom. The principal bedroom enjoys a view along Hertford Place towards the sea and has an ensuite shower room. The courtyard to the rear is shared with the two neighbouring properties, along with a passageway leading past individual storage rooms to the High Street. The accommodation with gas central heating and double glazing comprises;
