THE AREA

Printers Place boasts a fantastic location in Paisley, often cited as Scotland's largest town, which is sure to appeal to first-time buyers, professionals, commuters, and families alike.

Paisley is known for its stunning architecture and outside of Edinburgh, the town has the highest number of listed buildings in Scotland. It became prominent in the 12th century with the establishment of Paisley Abbey, an important, historic religious hub which is known as the "mother church" of Paisley. In 2021, Paisley was named as Britain's top property hotspot, and it's easy to see why, with the amenities and services you would expect of a city, accompanied by the access to nature and greenspace you would expect living in the countryside. Printers Place is ideally positioned for swift access to a wealth of amenities and lies within walking distance of shops (including supermarkets) (3 minutes), Brodie Park (6 minutes), the train station (12 minutes), the Royal Alexandra Hospital (19 minutes), and Paisley High Street (just 5 minutes away), whilst the M8 and the airport are a short 11-minute drive away, and you can be in Glasgow City Centre within 25 minutes by road. The area is well served by education facilities from nursery to secondary level, with Paisley also home to a University of the West of Scotland campus and a West College Scotland campus. Paisley is home to a number of gyms and leisure centres, offering a fantastic range of fitness and leisure facilities for the whole family to enjoy, whilst the town also has its own golf course. The town's several train stations and nearby road links, as well as excellent bus services, make travelling across Paisley and further afield easy and fast.
