SELLER INSIGHT

“ We were first drawn to this home for its period charm, rich history, and peaceful setting near the river. It has always felt like a tranquil retreat, full of natural light, cool in summer, warm in winter, and surrounded by the countryside while still being close to London, shops, schools, and transport links.

Some of our favourite spaces include the sitting room and bedroom with their beautiful views, the welcoming entrance with its fireplace and staircase, the conservatory, and the garden when the roses and hydrangeas burst into colour. The home is full of unique features: herringbone and oak floors, large leaded windows, panelled walls, fireplaces, and historic discoveries we've made over the years, from RAF memorabilia to an old silver florin tied to the house's origins.

We renovated extensively but kept the home's character at heart, updating the kitchen, bathrooms, carpet, garden, patio, conservatory and most recently the roof and boiler while preserving its period details. It's been an easy, practical home to live in, perfect for hosting friends and family.

The garden has been a true joy, centred around a magnificent Canadian oak and often visited by ducks, deer, squirrels, red kites, and even parrots. It's the ideal place to unwind at the end of a busy day.

One of the things we will miss most is the exceptional sense of community. Battlemead is a warm, harmonious neighbourhood where everyone looks out for each other. Our neighbours have been wonderful, and we've built friendships we'll carry with us.

To the future owners: take time to enjoy the tranquillity, the history, and the beauty that make this home so special.*

Ground Floor

The ground floor provides ample living space with four separate living areas; the formal sitting room with feature fireplace, panelled walls, cornicing and a stunning herringbone wood floor is indicative of the decadent design of the original house. A separate dining room is similarly finished in an elegant style, whilst the high specification kitchen breakfast room is sleek and minimalist, with an extensive range of fitted cabinets and appliances. The modern sun room provides a more casual light filled sitting space, with a range of built-in units creating a secondary kitchen or utility area. At the front is the beautiful entrance hall and reading room, an elegant yet informal space that receives afternoon sunshine, a perfect reading or music room, with a majestic staircase leading up.

Upon entering Battlemead House, you are welcomed into the first of four elegant reception rooms. With its original herringbone wood flooring, feature fireplace, and sweeping wooden staircase, this space immediately sets the refined tone that flows throughout the home.

The garden room, bathed in natural light, provides the perfect retreat and enjoys direct access to a private courtyard patio, an ideal spot for morning coffee.

The dining room continues the theme of elegance with matching herringbone flooring, a feature fireplace, and charming views over the courtyard.

The most impressive of all is the main reception room. With soaring ceilings, an ornate fireplace, and a magnificent bay window framing views of the landscaped rear gardens, it is a true centrepiece for both family living and entertaining.

The modern eat-in kitchen comes complete with integrated appliances and opens directly onto the rear patio, creating a seamless flow for al fresco dining and summer gatherings.

Completing the ground floor is a stylish guest WC, conveniently located just off the first reception room.

The first floor is quite remarkable; a wondrous master suite boasting panoramic windows overlooking the gorgeous gardens, two Juliet balconies add a romantic charm. With a magnificent oversized ensuite shower room finished with Italian fixtures and fittings, the luxurious lifestyle is complete. There are three further large double bedrooms, each beautifully appointed and with lovely large windows. The family bathroom has a separate w.c. for added convenience, and there is another charming shower room too.

The first floor hosts four generously proportioned bedrooms and three well-appointed bathrooms, thoughtfully designed to balance comfort with luxury.

The principal bedroom is a true highlight with its stunning original oak floor, featuring a modern en-suite with walk-in shower and dual sinks, large bay windows with elevated views across the gardens, and two private balconies, the perfect spaces to retreat and unwind.

The remaining bedrooms are served by two separate bathrooms: one with a bathtub and the other with a walk-in shower, ensuring every preference is catered for.

For added convenience, there is also an additional WC located just off the landing.
