VIDEO TOUR AVAILABLE This vast 7 double bedroomed detached family home offers everything you would want from a lovingly restored 1885 Victorian Villa. Seamlessly designed to blend the period with modern design and architectural features.

Set over four expansive floors, in addition to its own stand-alone coach house with plenty of off-road parking; all of which is situated on a highly popular residential road in a central position in Whalley Range.

Close to Chorlton and West Didsbury, which provide lively atmospheres and include a host of cafes, bars, restaurants, parks and nature reserves. Just a mile away from The Metrolink in Chorlton, which will provide easy access to a range of amenities including direct links to Media City, Piccadilly train station and Manchester airport; which are also only an easy 15-minute drive.

No expense has been spared on the finish, with only the highest quality of fixtures and fittings. Artisan craftsmen have painstakingly helped reinstate the features that many of these big old houses now lack, such as triple height skirting boards, smoked oak parquet, Minton tiles, stained glass, stunning cast-iron fireplaces/radiators, decorative plasterwork and cornices, cast-iron baths and stately bedrooms; en-suites and walk-through wardrobes.

With a few surprises such as a cinema, double-height master bedroom, bespoke lighting, designer wallpapers and one bedroom having the luxury of a bath in it - not to mention its huge wrap-around garden - this house sets itself apart from any of its size.

On the north side of the building are serene views of the church; on the south side, the teak David Salsbury orangery opens up onto beautiful decking with space in abundance for alfresco dining and outdoor living. The back garden has been made exceptionally private with its own large jacuzzi and covered seating area.

Furthermore, the detached brick-built coach house is rented out as an Airbnb, achieving £150 per night.
