Location

Steeped in history, the Chappell Lofts site was originally established in 1811 by Chappell & Co., renowned for crafting pianos for nobility, gentry, and legendary musicians, including Beethoven, Strauss, and Sibelius. During World War II, the site played a crucial role in manufacturing canopies and propellers for the iconic Supermarine Spitfires. Later, it became the Chalk Farm Photographic Studios, serving artists, photographers, and models before undergoing a significant three-year refurbishment to create this stunning residential development.
