INTRODUCTION

Come experience the new Sunlight House, a vibrant and iconic home to bright ambition

From our beginnings in 1932 to our renaissance in 2023, Sunlight House is a symbol of bright ambition and confident reinvention. As Manchester's original skyscraper, this stunning art deco building led the way as the beacon of progress for our city. In the same spirit, we're reimagining this historic icon to provide exceptional modern offices for pioneering businesses.

New ways of collaborative working and a vibrant building culture will inspire great work, no matter where you are on your journey - from freelancers and ambitious startups to forward-thinking organisations looking for a fresh outlook.

We know how important it is to build a life beside a business. People working at Sunlight House can look forward to high-quality independent cafés, bars and restaurants, an active community and flexible workspaces, all driven by great hospitality, thoughtful design and state-of-the-art facilities.

A cultural icon reborn

OUR HISTORY

Rooted in heritage, reinvented for new opportunity

Sunlight House was envisioned by Manchester architect Joseph Sunlight, born Joseph Zchovsky in Belarus to Jewish parents. Little is known about him in the public arena, but he's said to have fled the country with his family due to religious persecution, beginning work at an architect's office in Manchester in 1904 at just 15 years of age. By the time he was 21 years old, Joseph had constructed more than a thousand houses in Greater Manchester, and just a decade or so later in 1921, over one million pounds of building work had been carried out according to his designs.

In the early 30s, Joseph and his team constructed Sunlight House, Manchester's first skyscraper and his life's greatest work. Though his dream of turning it into a 33-storey block was never realised, its unique architecture remains a highlight on Manchester's skyline and an emblem of a vision for Manchester's thriving economic future.

RETROFIT PRINCIPLES

The greenest buildings are the ones we upgrade, not rebuild.

Whilst others tear down, we believe in preserving the stories that withstand the test of time. Honouring Joseph Sunlight's original structure and reimagining it for a contemporary audience has helped us cut carbon by roughly 250% compared to a new construction.

Reduce carbon

Rather than choosing to promote new construction, businesses who make their home in Sunlight House, a refurbished building supplied with 100% green energy, are opting for the lightest carbon option, helping them on their way to net zero.

Limit landfill

The construction industry is responsible for 62% of all landfill waste in the UK. By investing in Sunlight House rather than moving to a new build, you're indirectly helping to save tonnes of waste, limit greenhouse gases, minimise ecosystem damage and reduce toxic air pollution.

Protect resources

If the global population lived like residents of the UK, we'd need 2.6 earths in order to meet the demands. By moving to an existing building, companies who come to Sunlight House have a direct impact on the resource consumption used in construction.

WHAT MATTERS
