LOCATION:

Nestled in the picturesque Scottish Borders, Kelso offers a charming blend of rich history and natural beauty. This historic town boasts an impressive array of Georgian architecture, complemented by the scenic backdrop of the River Tweed. With its vibrant local community, Kelso is renowned for its welcoming atmosphere and numerous cultural events. Whether you're drawn to the town's historic landmarks, such as Floors Castle, or seeking outdoor adventures along the riverbanks, Kelso provides an idyllic setting for those looking to make a home in the heart of the Scottish Borders. Explore the unique properties available and discover the timeless allure of Kelso.

DESCRIPTION:

This one-bedroom flat on the second floor of the converted former 'Spread Eagle Hotel' which dates back to 1777. The building is a prominent stone property with Category B Listed Building status. The residence has been thoughtfully upgraded with double-glazed sash and case windows and features intercom secure entry, a 54m sq. floor area and partial electric heating. Ideally situated in central Kelso, this apartment is perfect for either a second home or a first time buyer home.

Note: Common parts of the building are maintained by a factor with factoring charges payable.

EXTERNALLY:

The property is accessed from pedestrian lane which links Bridge Street to Abbey Row. A secure intercom access leads into the neatly maintained communal stair well which has a shared store room. There is also a gated communal bin yard which is also accessible from the communal stairway.

SERVICES:

Mains Electric, Water & Drainage. Category B Listed Building.
