Property Description

This individual stone-built detached bungalow occupies a generous plot in a semi rural location on the edge of Bardsey, adjacent to Glenfield Caravan Park. While not entirely secluded, the property does enjoy open views across farmland to the front, giving a sense of space and countryside character.

Set back from the lane with off road parking, the bungalow includes a large outbuilding, ideal for storage, workshop use, or future development (subject to planning). The home is offered with no onward chain, making it an attractive proposition for buyers looking to modernise and potentially extend.

Internally, the accommodation comprises an entrance porch, hallway, a comfortable lounge, and a well fitted kitchen with integrated appliances, which is complemented by a separate utility room and cloaks/wc. A conservatory to the side adds additional living space. There are two double bedrooms, along with a shower room featuring tiled walls, a WC, and wash basin.

A staircase leads up to a converted loft space, with windows to the side and rear and a small washroom including WC and basin. A further loft area lies beyond, accessible through a door, offering further storage or conversion potential.

Outside, there’s an open plan lawned garden to the front, an enclosed rear garden, and a particularly generous sized side garden where the outbuilding is located and the surrounding area offers easy access to countryside walks.

The property is in need of modernisation throughout, but offers excellent scope for improvement or extension, subject to the usual consents. A great opportunity to create a bespoke home in a village setting with both rural views and access to local amenities.
