

Hollandgreen Place

LONDON W8

Hollandgreen Place is an award winning development completed in 2016 on the site of the former Commonwealth Institute and found on the southern border of Holland Park itself. It consists of three impressive interconnected buildings grouped around the former Institute's exhibition building which is now the home of the new Design Museum.

Residents are looked after by a 24 hour concierge team and also have use of a number of private facilities including a 20m swimming pool with double height ceilings and natural light, a sauna, steam room, gym, spa treatment room, cinema, golf simulator, business suite and children's playroom.

Kensington High Street is close by with its huge variety of amenities including Michelin starred restaurants, renowned supermarkets, excellent transport links (the District & Circle lines at High Street Kensington Underground Station), well-regarded preparatory schools as well as the open spaces of Holland Park, Kensington Gardens and Hyde Park. Furthermore, Knightsbridge and the West End are easily accessible, as is London Heathrow International Airport.
