Brownrigg Otterburn, Newcastle Upon Tyne, Northumberland, NE19 1LQ

A superb traditional stone built house, located just off the A68 outside of Otterburn village, in a fabulous 0.75 acre garden site with panoramic views to the Northumberland National Park - perfect 'lifestyle' opportunity for those buyers seeking rural living, with good road links to the Borders and south to the Tyne Valley & Newcastle.

Brownrigg offers a fantastic opportunity for those buyers seeking a rural location, with good flexible living space, four bedrooms, and excellent outside gardens and garaging - the house dates from 1860, formerly three Miners cottages, now made into one large four bedroom detached stone house, which has been run as a Bed & Breakfast over the last 3 years. The house benefits from fast Broadband, oil central heating and an additional back boiler to the cast iron wood burning stove, serving some of the radiators in the house - there is a separate cast iron wood burning stove which is independent of the heating system, a private septic tank and water supply from a private borehole.
