Description

This small development of stone built properties were constructed in the early 1980's and with their excellent position, on the edge of the countryside yet close to outstanding schooling, offer the perfect setting to live in Sheffield's south west sector. The property offers a range of accommodation laid out over two floors including two double bedrooms, a single that would make a great home office, a large sitting room and an open plan dining kitchen that backs onto the easily maintained, south westerly facing rear garden.
