Once historic Royal Hunting Grounds, this Berkley Homes development is surrounded by stunning Parkland steeped in history. Extensive grounds including the historic Daffodil Lawn, Wisteria Walk, Long Garden and the North Lawn adjacent to the tranquil lake provide the perfect location to get out and enjoy the developments natural surroundings. Within the north London triangle of Oakwood, Cockfosters and Hadley Wood, wide reaching local amenities are also on offer. The M25 is within easy reach with both Cockfosters and Oakwood Station 0.9 miles away, with a shuttle bus direct to Oakwood Station from the development providing access to Kings Cross Station in 26 minutes via the Piccadilly Line.

The gated development is first accessed by security fob and once inside the communal hallway there is access to the second floor by either stairs or lift. Once inside generous rooms are flooded by natural light. Unlike many newer builds storage has been considered throughout, beginning in the entrance hall where two large storage cupboards provide ample storage for outwear, bags and a utility cupboard with space for a freestanding washer/dryer. Both bedrooms are good doubles with large windows, with the principal bedroom suite offering a dressing area and luxury en-suite shower room featuring herringbone tiled floor and backlit triple fronted mirror with integral storage. Similarly, the family bathroom is equally well styled and well thought through, with centrally recessed bath controls placed far enough away from the shower to limit the cleaning required to keep them looking brand new.

The apartment is underfloor heated throughout allowing for simpler furniture placement without the consideration radiators and a more streamlined finish. The stunning, two-tone, shaker style kitchen provides a range of integrated appliances including wine fridge, recycling bins, fridge/freezer, dishwasher, oven and microwave oven and is open to the apartment's generous lounge/diner. A private balcony leads from the main living area and enjoys views onto the development's formal gardens below. The property also comes with an allocated parking space and communal bike storage.
