“

Modern architecture is not so much a style but an attitude.”

EDITORIAL

Gain some height in the unique resort of Flaine.

Because for more than 50 years MGM has chosen the finest locations, the best positions and construction quality, the resort of Flaine was a natural choice for our latest development in the Northern Alps. Like an ode to nature, the resort of Flaine's uncluttered modern design occupies a unique position between art, design and architectural heritage.

Unique like the Alh na's position in Flaine Forum, the resort's historic nerve centre.

Unique like its architecture which leaves a clear stamp, perfectly integrated into the attractive quality of the neighbouring buildings.

Unique like our experience as builders, our knowledge of the terrain, the quality of our buildings. There are many criteria which guarantee our future purchasers an asset which will increase in value and which reflect our corporate values.

FLAINE,

A resort with great skiing facing Mont-Blanc

Located between Geneva and Chamonix Mont-Blanc, Flaine was established in 1960 and is a resort of contrast, art and culture. With its massive sculptures, it is a real open-air museum. It is also a pioneering, innovative and eco-responsible resort. Moreover, the Grand Massif was the 1st resort to be awarded “Green Globe” certification.

Flaine Forum is a great place to meet and chat with its central square, wide open onto the ski area to the East. A 12-minute trip in the Grandes Platières cable car will take you to an altitude of 2500m from where you can look out over a 360° panoramic view of the Mont-Blanc, les Aravis, Belledonne and Jura massifs. From your apartment, you can enter a land of leisure and wellness. From the first ski tracks in the powder in the morning to the many après-ski activities, you are at the centre of Flaine’s holiday life.

This is where the ski-in-ski-out Alhéna complex is ideally located.

SKI-IN-SKI-OUT AND FACING DUE SOUTH, Alhena stands out for its startling architecture.

A word from the ARCHITECT

Guillaume Relier - Project architect

So that it blended perfectly with its unique natural setting as well as its extraordinary architectural landscape, Guillaume Relier, very enthusiastic about this Bauhaus-inspired location, did not hesitate to make use of its aesthetic rules.

The use of concrete, both malleable and geometric, in Flaine is very attractive. The opposition between this raw material and the rock and the snow-covered peaks creates striking visual contrasts, so, with Alhena, I came back to the essence of the resort.

I was very keen to rework the concrete to give it a contemporary character, such as sections of metal panelling to play on the reflections of the landscape.

The complex is made up of three buildings laid out to create an architectural, landscaped and human connection.

We have created some flat ledges on the slope which provide an extension to the public space and areas where people can gather such as restaurant terraces.

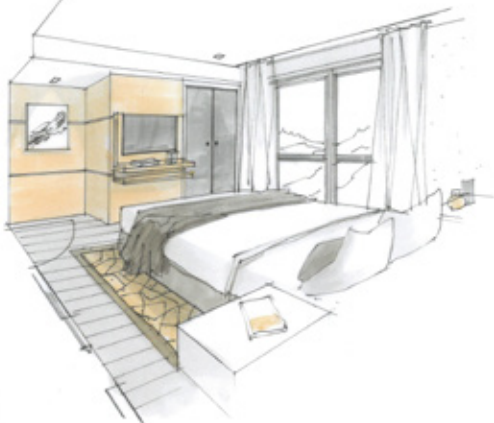

What is the highlight of this outstanding development?

The last building is a small square tower. By night, it gives the impression of being the watchtower which keeps vigil over the ski area.

COMFORT ELEGANCE FUNCTIONALITY

Think of every apartment as a cocoon of comfort, with an outlook over your pleasure.

On the snow front, Alhena has reinvented the true art of living in the mountains by focusing all attention on its guests: daring architecture with uncluttered lines, ideal orientation, classic and enduring materials, coordinating colour shades and materials in the interiors, environmentally friendly, luxury facilities.

At the very heart of the complex, a restaurant, an ESF day-nursery, a wellness centre of more than 1,000m² and a Montagnes du Monde® Spa, complete the day-to-day comforts.

From that starting point, we designed 39 3 and 4-room apartments, ranging from 63 to 85m². All the apartments have either a balcony or a terrace, most of which open onto the snow front.

Each one has a storage locker, an individual ski locker and an underground parking space.
