At Neroche Meadows, sustainability is at the heart of every home.

Built with eco-friendly features and forward-thinking design, each home is crafted to minimise environmental impact without compromising comfort.

All homes benefit from air source heat pumps, ensuring highly efficient heating and reduced energy consumption. Select homes—The Montacute, Hestercombe, Cothay and Halsway—feature underfloor heating, offering an additional layer of warmth and efficiency. Electric vehicle charging points come as standard for all properties, supporting a sustainable lifestyle.

Beyond the homes themselves, Neroche Meadows embraces nature throughout the development. Thoughtful landscaping with extensive new planting enhances the meadows to the south, including new tree planting. Complemented by the attractively designed attenuation pond, which sustainably manages surface water and supports biodiversity. Existing hedgerows have been carefully retained, helping to preserve the area's varied wildlife.

But it does not stop there, these new homes will be significantly more energy-efficient than older properties, delivering up to 50% savings on utility costs and emitting 67% less carbon*. With sustainability woven into every aspect, Neroche Meadows sets a new standard for greener, more energy-efficient living in the heart of Somerset, making it a smart choice for your future.

As part of our commitment to the wider community, we are contributing £270,000 to the local community for infrastructure and education, ensuring that Broadway and the surrounding areas thrive for generations to come.
