The property

Tucked away in Lyme Regis, this detached home offers flexible living, private gardens, and the chance to create a truly personal coastal retreat. Built in the 1980s with standard brick and cavity construction and Tudor-style detailing, the property is set centrally within its plot, complemented by a double garage, workshop, and private driveway.

Lovingly maintained, it's ready to move into while still offering scope for light modernisation.

Accommodation

The entrance hall provides access to a formal dining room on one side and a comfortable living room on the other, complete with a brick fireplace and doors opening to the terrace.

The kitchen/breakfast room offers a practical layout with a range of units, a gas hob, electric oven, and feature wine rack. A utility/boot room sits alongside with direct access to the garden.

Also on the ground floor is a flexible bedroom or study with shower and sink, plus a cloakroom, making single-level living an option.

Upstairs are three double bedrooms, all with built-in wardrobes, including a principal with en-suite shower room. A family bathroom and useful landing storage complete the first floor.

Outside

The garden is a real feature, planted with mature shrubs and offering plenty of colour throughout the seasons. A large terraced area provides an ideal space for sitting out and entertaining, while a summerhouse and greenhouse add further appeal.

The driveway leads to a double garage with eaves storage, and an attached workshop to the rear.

Location

Lyme Regis is a much-loved coastal town, famous for its historic Cobb harbour, charming period streets, and access to the UNESCO World Heritage Jurassic Coast. The town offers schools, independent shops, supermarkets, and a wide choice of cafés and restaurants.

The award-winning sandy beach and South West Coast Path are just moments away. For wider travel, Axminster provides a mainline rail service to London and Exeter, with road connections to Dorchester and beyond.
