The Area

This stunning new development is located in the hamlet of Beguildy, on the B4355 which lies close to the England and Wales border, about 8 miles north west of the market town of Knighton. The property has a stunning location with commanding views across the River Teme valley to the Black Mountain and beyond. The hamlet has a traditional black and white drovers inn, understood to date from the 17th Century and serving Beguildy Gold real ale. Knighton is a bustling market town set on Offas Dyke and featuring the remains of two castles from the 12th and 13th Centuries. Today it offers a variety of local independent shops, and cafes. Knighton Church in Wales Primary school admits children from age 5 to 11, Knighton station connects with Swansea in South Wales and Shrewsbury where connections to London and Manchester can be accessed.
