FELIN WEN - GRADE II FORMER CORN MILL

Brief Description

Felin Wen is a delightfully situated, traditionally stone built Grade II listed former flour mill under a slate roof. The property has been constructed of traditional Pembrokeshire stone with feature, hand-dressed, "Blue-stone" quoins and arched window heads to the front facade and country style render with exposed heads and quoins to the rear and gables. Constructed in circa 1750, this magnificent building has been subject to many alterations throughout its history. Earmarked by CADW in the 1990's as being of significance (external elevations) this beautiful building now consists of a commercial outlet to the ground floor and an executive apartment to the top two floors.

Commercial Space

Double, half glazed access doors to the front and large window to the front. Large open-plan, unencumbered, multi-use space, formerly utilised as a shop. Preparation area with sink and serving counter. Large amount of display space, currently with freestanding shelving. Modern rail lighting system. Original slate flagstone floor. Timber window and door heads. Room for seating.

Utility/Toilets

Access via separate entrance from the commercial space. Staff and visitor toilet facilities which could be utilised for customer toilets. Window to the front. Exposed limewashed stone walls. A range of base units, ample storage, washing facilities, plumbing for several washing machines and tumble dryers.

FELIN WEN - MILL HOUSE APARTMENT

Brief Description

The apartment, which is located above the commercial space, is accessed from an elevated position, across a beautiful slate flagged patio area which is laid over the historic, now dry, leet. Access is via a small timber footbridge, through a half glazed hardwood door into the imposing galleried entrance with mezzanine snug area.

Galleried Entrance

Open plan access through sitting room to kitchen/dining, bedroom and bathroom, open stairway to mezzanine snug area and bedroom two.

Open Plan Living/Kitchen/Dining

Three windows overlooking the rear, part galleried ceiling with exposed A-frames and purlins. "Morso Squirrel" multifuel burner with exposed flue to ceiling height sat on a slate hearth. Solid wood flooring through to kitchen/dining. Windows to the front, farmhouse style wall and base units with granite worktop surfaces, inset single bowl, stainless steel sink with "monobloc" style tap. Built under Bosch single oven with Gaggenau inset gas hob above. Display storage shelving to two walls, dining area. Two radiators, doors through to bedroom and shower room.

Bedroom One

Windows to the side and rear, feature exposed beams, radiator.

Shower Room

Window overlooking the front, semi-integrated sink with vanity below and Corian top, back to wall WC, walk-in shower cubicle with thermostatic shower valve, heated towel radiator.

Mezzanine Snug

Accessed from staircase in the living area, eaves storage access, through to master bedroom.

Master Bedroom

Velux style window overlooking the rear, part vaulted ceilings, built-in wardrobes and eaves storage, airing cupboard, radiator.

Externally

To the side and rear there is direct access to a large patio and seating area which leads on to the formal gardens and acreage beyond. To the side there are slate flag steps leading to the front of the Mill House, parking areas and further formal garden areas. Access to the office room from the patio.

THE GRANARY

The Old Granary at Felin Wen, originally used for the storage of grain and renovated during the early 1990's project works. Constructed in much the same way as the main house with stone quoins and heads, although definitely, more of a utilitarian finish without the same finesse in finish and facing works. Under a slate roof with slate facias. The upper floor houses the commercial office and the ground floor acts as ancillary storage with concrete flooring, window to the front and the access to water facilities if desired.

Office Room

Accessed via timber stairway from patio and through half glazed, hardwood door. Windows to the side and front, feature exposed A-frames, purlins and stone walling, allowing for pleasant, light and airy workspace. Arrow slit window, pine flooring, broadband connections, etc. Two radiators which are run from the commercial kitchen boiler.

COMMERCIAL KITCHEN, PACKING & COMMERCIAL STORAGE

Packing Room

Accessed from the main hallway. Commercial packing room with walk-in freezer storage and double doors accessing the loading area. Housing for the doorway through to the kitchen.

Commercial Kitchen

Accessed from the packing room. Window to the front and rear of the property, full commercial kitchen with three six burner gas stoves and commercial extraction system above. A bank of commercial, stainless steel sinks and separate hand wash facilities. Various freestanding work stations. We are advised that various fixtures and fittings are included within the asking price.

First Floor Storage

Accessed from the stairway in the entrance hallway. Full reinforced commercial flooring for the ability to be used as commercial goods storage. Windows to three aspects, views across the acreage. Radiators serviced from the oil fired combination boiler.

The Grounds

The property benefits from a myriad of landscaped gardens, woodland, orchards and pasture allowing for adaptability of usage in both commercial and private use. The grounds, covering some 9 acres or thereabouts which consists predominantly of deciduous woodland, which was planted under the premium farm woodland scheme (between 1995 and 1998) gaining an award from the Welsh Forestry Commission, and has been maintained, of late, with the thinning out of Ash due to dieback, offering fantastic walks and trails, within the property's curtilage.

Landscaped Gardens and Outbuildings

Felin Wen benefits from a diverse collection of landscaped, ornamental and forest garden areas for enjoyment. Dispersed with specimen trees and shrubs from across the globe, woodland walks are abundant, interspersed with seating areas, to allow for the full enjoyment of this truly tranquil location.

Pig Sty/Storage

Beyond the commercial aspect of the development there is a refurbished pigsty, which has been sympathetically restored, to what can only be described as its former glory and offers the ability to include livestock into any future plans, if desired.

Garden Stores/Garage

Beyond the restored pigsty, there is a block-built garden store/garage, which benefits from power and lighting, offering plenty of storage for ride-on lawnmower, implements and vehicles, etc.

Salting Room

Attached to the main dwelling, in near original condition, is the building that would have, historically, been utilised for animal housing/storage. Constructed to match the main house with blue-stone features and slate roof. Internally, original A-frames, cobbled floors and wrap around salting table only serve to add to the eclectic feel of this lovely, characterful, addition to the main dwelling. Currently purposed as log store and ancillary storage.
