Situation

Rosemarket is a peaceful village located in the beautiful Pembrokeshire countryside, yet centrally located between the towns of Milford Haven, Neyland, Pembroke and Haverfordwest.

Norton, Rosemarket occupies a delightful rural setting on the outskirts of the village, within a short distance of the golf club, public house 'The Huntsman' and the local church. Designated country walks are located nearby, which lead to both Haverfordwest and the picturesque Neyland Marina.

The superb scenery of the Pembrokeshire coastline and the Cleddau Estuary which form an integral part of the Pembrokeshire Coast National Park also lie within easy driving distance.

Also nearby is the small riverside town of Neyland which has in recent years become firmly established as one of the more popular boating centres in the area. There is a very attractive marina and riverside walks along the River Cleddau in an area known as the Secret Waterway.

Pembrokeshire is of course renowned for the superb scenery of its coastline which includes many long sandy beaches and picturesque coastal inlets that continues to be a popular tourist attraction throughout the years.

Description

Norton comprises a quiet, tranquil smallholding extending to three acres or thereabouts in total and including a large detached Edwardian property that has been updated and extended to a good standard but yet the original wealth and character still remains. This really is a prestigious home, located in a convenient area.
