The property: a characterful five storey Grade II listed Sinden house with an enclosed courtyard garden located on the High Street in Hastings Old Town. The accommodation is presented to an excellent standard throughout and benefits from a wealth of original features including floorboards, sash windows, high ceilings and fireplaces, along with some enhanced features such as British made cast iron radiators with brass thermostatic valves and quality light fittings and sockets. Built at the latter part of the Georgian period, this home was first occupied in 1839 by a Surgeon and has evolved throughout the centuries, more recently undergoing a top to bottom restoration over a two and a half year period to restore the building to its intended grandeur. You enter on the ground floor which comprises of a welcoming entrance porch and hallway, a dining room with wood burning stove which opens through to the kitchen at the rear of the property, creating a sociable space perfect for entertaining. The kitchen is a particular feature with a freestanding oven, stylish units complimented with Brazilian 'Verde Bamboo' granite tops, a freestanding butler sink and open oak shelving, there is an adjoining scullery with access out to the courtyard garden and the lower floor houses a large cellar which provides a useful storage space. The main living space is positioned on the first floor, enjoying a front aspect and a marble fireplace fitted with a wood burning stove, also on this floor is one of the double bedrooms which is currently used as a home office, along with a stylish shower room, separate w/c and sizeable storage cupboard which houses the large capacity combi boiler.
