Longtown is a thriving town located to the North of Carlisle, on the historic A7 which connects from the English border through to Scotland's capital city, Edinburgh. For the every-day essentials, the town boasts a wide range of amenities including independent shops, convenience stores, garage, take-away restaurants and pharmacy. Additionally, Longtown also benefits from a doctors surgery, Longtown Primary School, village hall and Arthuret Church. For those looking to commute, heading South on the A7 provides direct access back to the Border City of Carlisle, which includes access onto the M6 J44, the A595 and the A69 whereas heading North over the border, the town of Gretna allows access to the A74(M) and A75. For those requiring rail connections, Carlisle Citadel Station is on the West Coast mainline, providing fast and frequent services South to London in around 3hours 23minutes and North to Edinburgh in 1hour 16minutes.
