£155,000

Number fourteen is a semi-detached cottage situated within the small village of Pitscottie offering open views over farmlands to the front and rear.

The property is entered to the front via the porch which is glazed and a further glazed door leads into the hallway which includes two storage cupboards. The lounge offers a double window to the front, open fire with stone surround and polished granite hearth and mantle. The lounge is adjoined by a separate dining area with overhead skylight and full-height storage cupboard. Glazed double doors lead into the sun room which offers patio doors to the rear. The bedroom offers a double window to the front and built in wardrobe facilities. Box room has space for occasional single bed. The bathroom is fitted with a W.C., wash hand basin and bath with over bath shower. The kitchen is fitted with white base and wall units, co-ordinating work surfaces, slot in electric cooker and space for appliances. A window overlooks and a door leads to the rear garden. The property offers oil fired central heating and all windows are double glazed.

To the front the garden is laid out for ease of maintenance. A gated pathway to the side leads to the large rear garden which is mainly laid to lawn with paved area. Timber shed and block-built outbuilding
