Devonacre is a detached bungalow, sited within approximately 1.25 acres and occupying a favoured position at Raymonds Hill close to commuter links and equidistant to both Lyme Regis and Axminster.

The bungalow is generally in good order and condition throughout, with the possibility of reconfiguring the existing layout or extension subject to necessary consents being obtained.

The gardens and land are a real feature, with vast swathes of lawn and mature trees throughout, with further outbuildings and stores serving a variety of purposes depending on preference and needs. Given the size of the total land and acreage, there would be possible development potential given its orientation and access, although interested parties would need to make their own enquiries.

OUTSIDE

Devonacre is situated within the popular area of Raymonds Hill, within easy commuter reach of both Lyme Regis and Axminster in the opposite direction. The bungalow is approached off Charmouth Road via the driveway for the property, which leads to the side elevation where there are a number of timber outbuildings, stores and garage. A pathway provides access to the front entrance porch, with the frontage of the land being laid to lawn with mature specimen trees and shrubs, a raised decked area to the front and side of the property and feature pond. From here, a hard standing pathway leads to the side part of the garden (also linking to the side aspect of the property), which is again laid to lawn with mature trees and greenhouse. The rear aspect of the outside space is again lawned, with specimen trees and shrubs interspersed, with a timber store to one side. The land totals approximately 1.25 acres which is enclosed by a combination of high hedging and timber fencing.
