Red Cross Cottage is a charming Grade II Listed timber framed house, believed to have been built over 400 years ago and formerly an inn to the former Brakspear Brewery Maltings next door.

Brimming with original character, this beautifully updated home offers generous head height and exposed beams throughout. Carefully renovated to preserve its charm, it combines period details with a luxurious, contemporary finish. Light and bright living spaces, stunning bathrooms, and comfortable bedrooms create a perfect blend of tradition and modern style.

THE PROPERTY

The spacious, double-aspect sitting room has a roaring log fire, white-painted beams, and a polished oak floor, creating a warm and inviting atmosphere. A series of half stairs leads to the study with a herringbone oak floor, a cloakroom, and a formal dining room. The kitchen/breakfast room includes handmade units, a claret red electric AGA, and access to the courtyard garden.

There are four charming bedrooms arranged over various levels, all elegantly appointed, with two stylish bath/shower rooms and an en-suite cloakroom.

Entered through a private cast-iron gate, the walled garden is beautifully landscaped with a water feature, wisteria-clad pergolas, roses, box hedging, and soft lighting for evening entertaining.
