This charming double fronted cottage sits in a rural location high in the hills above Henley. One of a terrace of just three properties, the house has outstanding views over the surrounding countryside.

With good head height throughout, there are period features such as exposed beams, panel doors and an open fire.

The front door leads into the dining room or snug with ceiling timbers and stairs to the first floor. The sitting room is double length with doors to the garden, and has lovely views to the fields beyond. There is a light and bright fitted kitchen and a garden room conservatory with doors to the terrace and garden. A large cupboard and cloakroom completes the ground floor.

Upstairs, there are three double bedrooms and a bathroom, all with fine views.

Outside

To the front of the cottage are two parking spaces on the gravel drive. The rear garden is accessed from the sitting room and garden room and faces South West. It is mainly laid to lawn with bushes and shrubs and a post and rail fence at the end allows wonderful views across the adjoining fields.

Situation

Upper Culham is a lovely rural area between the hamlets of Crazies Hill and Cockpole Green, approximately 2.5 miles from Henley-on-Thames.

The large village of Twyford is located along the A4 and has a Waitrose supermarket, a Post Office, and other shops, cafes, and restaurants. Other villages close by are Aston and Hurley both on the River Thames and both with popular pubs. Wargrave is a riverside village approx 3 miles away, with a church, small independent shops and infant, primary and secondary schools.

There are good transport links with Twyford railway station with regular fast services to London Paddington and the City via The Elizabeth Line. About 2 miles away is Castle Royle Golf and Country Club, with gym facilities and a pool. There are many footpaths and bridlepaths close by and just up the lane is Warren Row, which has a cycling cafe which offers eat-in and take-away services.
