2 Palace Hill is a substantial residential property that has been comprehensively refurbished and restored to a high standard throughout. The accommodation comprises four well-proportioned bedrooms, a spacious living room, and a kitchen, providing a balance of comfort and functionality for modern occupation.

The kitchen is a particular feature of the property, finished in Oak to a refined standard and fitted with an electric AGA, creating the focal point of the home. From here, access is gained to the remainder of the accommodation.

All bedrooms are served with en suite facilities, two of which are finished in stone and two finished in tiles. The top rear bedroom has impressive reclaimed beams from the 1700's. The overall presentation of the property combines traditional character with modern finishes, resulting in a well-considered and attractive interior.

In addition, the property offers potential for alternative use, subject to the necessary planning consents. Given its location, properties of a similar type and use have demonstrated the ability to generate desirable returns when operated as guest accommodation.

The roof is fitted with discreet electric deterrent wires designed to prevent seagull nesting—a practical feature for a coastal property.

Overall, 2 Palace Hill represents an opportunity to acquire a carefully restored property with high-quality fittings and strong potential, making it a desirable proposition for both residential and investment purposes.
