Situation

The popular parish of Amberley sits high in the Cotswold Hills in an AONB just below Minchinhampton Common and includes the small hamlets of Theescombe, Littleworth and St Chloë. Known for far reaching valley views, and outstanding sunsets, this village offers two public houses, a primary school, and an active church with a community-based shop and café. The 600 acres of National Trust commons provide homes to a golf course, a further pub, café, a nearby hotel, an independent school called Beaudesert Park School in addition to the famous Winstones Ice Cream factory. The nearest market town is Nailsworth, just over a mile away where you will find a small supermarket, the renowned William's a seafood restaurant and Hobb's bakery. Minchinhampton is another nearby market town. Stroud has an excellent choice of educational establishments including two grammar schools and a college. The award-winning Farmer's Market is a highlight. Stroud has a mainline train station to London (Paddington).
